Il borgo antico di Nicola di Luni

Italia, 12.10.2024 [ENA]

Nicola di Luni is a charming medieval village nestled in the hills of Lunigiana, Tuscany. With its cobblestone streets, stone houses, and breathtaking views of the sea and the Apuan Alps, the village offers a peaceful, timeless atmosphere. Perfect for those seeking tranquility and history.

Nicola di Luni takes its name from the ancient Roman city of Luni, near which it stands. Founded between the 10th and 11th centuries, it features stone houses, cobblestone streets, and views of the Apuan Alps and the sea. Its architecture reflects the typical fortified medieval style, with walls and defensive towers. The "Talking Stones" of Nicola di Ortonovo are carvings found on some stones in the village, likely signs of ancient civilizations, telling stories of the past through symbols still studied by experts today.

From the village of Nicola di Luni, you can enjoy a stunning view of the Apuan Alps, the Versilia coast, and the plains below. Tourism here is mainly slow and cultural, perfect for those who love peace and nature, with hiking trails and visits to historic sites. Visitors can savor typical Lunigiana dishes such as testaroli with pesto, torta d'erbi (herb pie), and Colonnata lard, all accompanied by local wines. An authentic experience blending history, breathtaking landscapes, and genuine flavors.

The church in the village of Nicola di Luni is called the Church of San Pietro and is dedicated to Saint Peter the Apostle. It was built in the 13th century, featuring simple yet striking architecture typical of the Romanesque style, and it represents one of the historical and spiritual symbols of the village.

If you are looking for a place where time seems to stand still, surrounded by breathtaking landscapes and millennia of history, Nicola di Luni is the perfect destination. Get lost in its winding streets, savor traditional cuisine, and let yourself be enchanted by its authentic beauty. Come and discover a hidden gem of Tuscany!
